INVESTMENT OBJECTIVES AND STRATEGY

The Fund has been created to provide investors with a unique exposure to a portfolio of Equity Securities that are included in the Health Care sector of the Global Industry Classification Standards (or, if such industry classification system is no longer made available by MSCI Inc. and Standard & Poor's (or, if applicable, any successor of either of these entities), any other internationally recognized industry classification system at the time of investment and whose underlying business includes, but is not limited to, the provision of healthcare goods and services, including manufacturing and distributing healthcare products, equipment, supplies and technologies, producing and marketing of pharmaceuticals and biotechnology products, and/or engaging in research and development, each with a market capitalization of at least US$5 billion.

The Fund's investment objectives are to provide unitholders with:

- (i) the opportunity for capital appreciation; and
- (ii) monthly cash distributions.

To achieve its investment objectives, the Fund will invest in an equally-weighted portfolio of Equity Securities of 20 Healthcare Issuers¹ from the Healthcare Leaders Investable Universe¹ that have a market capitalization of at least US$5 billion at the time of investment and meet the investment characteristics described below. In order to seek to generate additional returns, the Manager will sell call options on no more than 33% of the Equity Securities of each Healthcare Issuer held in the Fund.

Harvest will semi-annually reconstitute and rebalance the Portfolio such that, at the time of the initial investment and immediately following each semi-annual reconstitution and rebalancing, will have the following investment characteristics:

- Value – An average Price-to-Earnings ratio lower than the average for the Healthcare Leaders Investable Universe; and
- Quality – An average 5-year Return on Equity greater than the average for the Healthcare Leaders Investable Universe.

RISK

The risks associated with investing in the Fund are as described in the prospectus. There were no material changes to the Fund over the period that affected the overall level of risk of the Fund.

RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

The Fund returned 1.99% for Series A and 2.47% for Series U compared to the MSCI World Health Care Index (net Total Return in USD) of 9.76% for the period ended June 30, 2019.

Through the end of 2018, the broader market volatility picked up significantly on uncertainty surrounding global trade, interest rate policies and diverging views about the pace at which the global economies were slowing, and that resulted in an abrupt pull back in late December. During this time however, Healthcare reacted as it has in many past market corrections and highlighted its defensive characteristics by being one of the best performing sub-sectors amidst the market pull back. As 2019 emerged, renewed confidence of accommodative fiscal policy and slightly muted trade rhetoric coupled with a follow through of many companies meeting and beating profit forecasts with upward revisions for 2019. This resulted in the broader market rebounding quickly and the S&P 500 Index touching an all-time high by early May. During the first six months of 2019, momentum resumed for the traditionally more cyclical Information Technology, Consumer Discretionary and Industrials sub-sectors, with each ending up over 20% for the period.

Health Care on the other hand, lagged the broader market during the period. A key drug failure in an Alzheimer study put further pressure on large capitalization biotechnology stocks and resulted in the sentiment towards those companies sending valuations in many cases to all-time lows. At the same time, the Health Care selling pressure increased significantly, driven in large part by comments from Democratic Presidential candidates surrounding drug pricing and insurance reforms, including one extreme comment to eliminate private insurance, caused the selling to spread to other sub-sectors. Specifically, industry stalwarts like Unitedhealth Group Incorporated, Anthem, Inc. and a leading hospital company, HCA Healthcare, Inc., saw relentless selling over several days despite offering products that have seen bipartisan support. While posturing and headline grabbing came to the forefront as the Democrats get set to vote for their next Presidential candidate, the healthcare sector in the second quarter rebounded as it became more apparent that the practicality of such extreme comments is limited.

This coincided with continued strong earnings reports and upwards revisions to guidance for the rest of 2019 and resulted in the sector moving positive for the period, albeit behind all other sub-sectors within the S&P 500. Following the end of the period, additional proposals from the Trump administration surrounding clarity and elimination of certain drug rebating were abandoned, providing additional validation that more impactful policy proposals are likely to have little fundamental impact to the sector despite headlines causing volatility.

Despite the macro headwinds and heightened volatility, corporate balance sheets remain in solid shape while quarterly profits have continued to grow, and this was particularly evident during the period for the Health Care sector. Health Care is considered a superior good and directly exposed to the structurally positive macro tailwind of the global aging population. It is often considered a defensive sector given the necessity of many of the underlying products and valuation metrics in many cases have compressed to attractive levels compared to historical levels for the sector and compared to the broader market.

The Fund was invested in 20 Healthcare Leaders¹ during the period and remains positioned for a recovery in sentiment within the sector. A positive from the enhanced volatility during the period is that the option premiums earned from the covered calls sold increase as volatility increases. The Fund sold call options on the underlying holdings during the period to meet its investment and income objectives.

Explanatory Notes:

1. Net assets and distributions are based on the actual number of units outstanding at the relevant time. The increase (decrease) from operations is based on the weighted average number of units outstanding over the reporting period. It is not intended that the Fund's net assets per unit table act as a continuity of opening and closing net assets per unit.
2. Series A net assets, at the commencement of operations on December 18, 2014 was $9.39, net of agents' commissions and issuance costs of $0.61 per unit. Series U commenced operations on February 3, 2017 with net assets of $10.40 ($8.00 USD).
3. Distributions were paid in cash or reinvested in additional units of the Fund.
4. Management expense ratio ("MER") is based on total expenses (excluding commissions and other portfolio transaction costs) of the stated period and is expressed as an annualized percentage of the daily average net asset value during the period. The Series A MER for the period December 31, 2015 included agents' fee of $2,551,893 and issue costs of $655,355. The Series A MER for 2014, the year of inception, included agents' fee of $4,987,500 and issue cost of $815,000. In both cases these costs are treated as one-time expenses and therefore were not annualized. The MER without these costs is 1.33% for 2015 and 2.72% for 2014.
5. The trading expense ratio represents total commissions and other portfolio transaction costs expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net asset value during the period.
6. The Fund's portfolio turnover rate indicates how actively the Fund's portfolio advisor manages its portfolio investments. A portfolio turnover of 100% is equivalent to the Fund buying and selling all of the securities in its portfolio once in the course of the period. The higher a Fund's portfolio turnover rate, the greater the trading costs payable by the Fund and the greater the chance of an investor receiving taxable capital gains. There is not necessarily a relationship between a high turnover rate and the performance of a Fund.
7. The USD amount of the net assets at the end of the period was $7.66 USD.
